“ Deepest condolences to Jim's family, Kate, and friends. Jim, "Hinchy," as we called him at work, was one of the best guys to be around, in the office or anywhere. He had a great laugh and likable demeanor - always rocking his "non-iron" Brooks Brothers swag!

Jim was instrumental to my career at Akamai. He helped me to get an internship at Akamai 5 years ago, and has served as a mentor and friend ever since. It was always great to catch up with him and talk shop, talk sports, weekend plans, etc. He was an easy guy to talk to and a great listener - it meant a lot as a young 21-, 22-year old kid to have someone older to look up to who was successful and well respected but also still "cool." That was Jim. He will certainly be missed and remembered at Akamai as I'm sure he will in many other places and by many other friends.

Thoughts, prayers, and good vibes are with you all -
